FHA Investigation

Looks Like Biggest

Scandal Trial of All

One of the penalties that befall citizens who lightly grant unlimited power to the federal government and then shrug off the responsibility for checking up on the political appointees to whom that power is delegated is the half-billion-dollar Federal Housing Administration scandal which the Senate Banking Committee is belatedly looking into.

International Communism is certainly a threat to free government but the history of our United States shows that one well-organized group of 100-per-cent Americans working a shenanigan with the taxpayers' money can do more real damage than all the domestic spies on the FBI's calendar.

But only after the full publicity potential of the spy scare has been exhausted does the congress get down to tackling something that is tangible — fraud in the administration of billions of federal tax dollars for the promotion of better housing.

There are 251 specific cases before the Senate Banking Committee, and yesterday's Associated Press report gave the following summary from Chairman Capehart (R-Ind.):

"Most of the 251, he said, involved operators who reaped inflated profits out of the rental housing program of the post World War II period. These profits, which Capehart estimated might total a half-billion dollars, came from FHA-insured loans far greater than the actual cost of building an apartment house. He said that by various kinds of financial manipulation the builder could pocket the difference between the loan and his building costs."

This is the oldest and dirtiest story known to self-governing people — engaging their resources and credit for the benefit of less fortunate brothers, and then seeing the program betrayed by predatory rascals waving the American flag with one hand while stuffing FHA paper in their pocket with the other. This investigation has all the earmarks of the biggest scandal of World War II, for it is the kind of fraud that has plagued us ever since 1776.

The jury panel was composed of Miss Anita Abbott, Will Rutherford Gordon Bayless, Howard Hindman, Allen Downs, Syvelle Burke, Lynn Harrell, Mrs. E. W. Graham, Homer Jones, Cecil Wyatt, B. J. ## Hope Couple Injured in Auto Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Gibson Jr. were injured early last night when the auto in which they were riding collided with another driven by Ralph Hatfield, Hope Route Four, at Fifth and Greening Streets.

From the point of impact the Gibson auto careened into a board fence, knocked down two pine trees, ran over some shrubbery and came to a halt only a few feet from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Daniels.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were taken to a local hospital for treatment. Both vehicles were badly damaged, investigating city police reported.

Atom Workers Determined to Strike

OAK RIDGE, Tenn., (AP) — Federal mediators today abandoned efforts to try to settle a threatened strike of 9,000 atomic production workers at three plants here and one at Paducah, Ky.

Clyde M. Mills, assistant director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said at 10:45 a. m. that negotiations had been broken off.

"It is a hopeless deadlock and I have so notified my superior in Washington," Mills told a reporter that negotiators failed in all-night bargaining sessions last night to reach agreement on CIO and AFL demands for a "substantial" wage increase.

The strike deadline was extended to midnight after the negotiations continued into the early hours today.

Regardless of Your Personal Feelings Toward the Yanks You Just Have to Admire Casey

BY HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) It looks already as if Casey Stengel, who has become the Bernard Shaw of the baseball world, is heading for another happy year.

"Oh, no, not again!" some of my friends are bleating — friends who take every victory by the New York Yankees as a personal tragedy.

The prospect of watching the "Old Perfection" lead his coupon clippers to a sixth straight pennant strikes them as a catastrophe, and already they are yelping "break up the Yankees before they break up baseball."

Each year the anvil chorus grows louder, and each year the world champions go right on proving why they are world champions. It has reached a point where the

Confidence Charge Jails Three Negroes

Three Jackson, Miss. Negroes were arrested at Texarkana yesterday on charges of conspiracy to cheat a local Negro girl, Clara Porter, on the downtown streets of Hope yesterday.

In Hempstead County jail are Elizabeth Johnson, Dorothy Jean Tyler and Rafael Kilso, all of Jackson.

Local officers said they tried to pull the old "pigeon dropping" confidence game on the Hope girl. Another Hope Negro, Luther Muldrow, saw what was going on and reported to police.

The trio escaped by auto but officers radioed ahead and they were picked up by Texarkana officers.

Mundt Pushes Ahead With Hearing Plans

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) pushed ahead today with scheduled plans for a televised probe of the McCarthy-Army row in the face of demands from the McCarthy camp for another investigation before the public hearings get under way.

Mundt, acting chairman of the Senate investigations subcommittee during the inquiry, professed hope the public hearings would start next Thursday as planned despite those demands and reports the Army would be asked to rework its case.

The call for a pre-investigation came from Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Roy M. Cohn, the subcommittee's regular counsel, following the release yesterday of the Army's 29-point "bill of particulars" against the senator and his aides.

Cohn telegraphed from New York for "an immediate investigation" to find out who violated a earlier subcommittee decision not to make public the Army charges until McCarthy's accusations against the Army also had been submitted and could be made public.

Cohn made clear he was not referring to Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), the subcommittee member who gave out the Army list of charges. Symington said he did so because of previous "piecemeal leaks" to newsmen about the Army document.

Yankees hardly need to rely on their players. They could win most games by putting nine empty uniforms on the field.

I must confess myself I have no fondness for the Yankees. To me a Yankee fan is just a man who puts security above everything else in life. But I can't see how anyone who loves baseball could escape a feeling of ungrudging fondness and admiration for Manager Casey Stengel.

The sport has done well by this graying clown prince with the mind of a philosopher. He has, as one writer, "touched all the bases" in 44 years of playing and managing. He has collected a few well-wishers along the way, and drags down maybe $100,000 a year, which is probably more than even Lassie

Oppenheimer Is Discouraging Public Hearing

WASHINGTON, (UP) — Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is discouraging his fellow scientists from demanding that the loyalty charges against him be aired publicly, it was learned today.

Many colleagues and friends of the physicist are opposed to the present secret hearings before a special security board of the Atomic Energy Commission.

They would like to see a public investigation—preferably before the House-Senate Atomic Energy committee—so the nation would be able to weigh the charges of pro-Communist against Oppenheimer's record in master minding development of the atomic bomb.

But an informed source revealed Oppenheimer does not favor this course. He fears it might develop into a sensational gind of trial in which the issues could become blurred.

Oppenheimer, the source said, chose to fight the charges against him according to the progressing called for under AEC regulations. These provided for the secret hearing to determine whether he is a security risk. He is sticking to his decision.

Ren. W. Sterling Cole (R-N.Y.) said Tuesday that his joint atomic committee intends to wait until after the AEO hearing before deciding whether it should investigate. Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) has asked the staff of his internal security subcommittee to see if a full inquiry is warranted.

Whether a congressional investigation is called or not, sources close to the controversy feel sure the case will find its way into the courts, sooner or later.

These informants note that Oppenheimer in sworn testimony has denied many of the things of which he is charged. The AEC charges flatly questioned his truthfulness as well as loyalty if these are supported by sworn testimony, the sources said, it seems certain a conflict will develop which could be taken court.

Jenner and Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) said in a joint statement late yesterday that the internal security subcommittee supplied "much of the material" for the AEC charges.

They said the "voluminous information" on Oppenheimer was uncovered in 1952 and turned over to the proper agencies of government. "The subcommittee took no action at the time they said because of the 'highly sensitive nature' of Oppenheimer's work and the many ramifications involved in the situation."

The senate investigating subcommittee, headed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), also revealed it had gathered information on Oppenheimer without taking action.

And McCarthy said he has two affidavits charging Oppenheimer with having been a Communist.

Oppenheimer conceded in his reply to the AEC charges that he once associated with Communists and Communist causes but denied emphatically that he ever was a member of the party or ever really believed in its program.

Turbulent Rains Cover Arkansas

By The Associated Press
Turbulent winds and heavy rains buffeted Arkansas last night as south central Arkansas waited out a 5 1/2 hour tornado alert.

The U. S. Weather Bureau warning of possible tornadoes 20 miles on either side of a line between El Dorado and Pine Bluff was lifted at 11 p. m.

The turbulence and drenching rains were caused by a squall line moving across Arkansas before a front that was expected to bring cool, partly cloudy weather to the state today.

At least eight U. S. Weather Bureau stations reported thunderstorms last night with Mena recording 1.10 inches of rain within an hour and 15 minutes.

Mulberry reported 1.82 inches of rain late yesterday and Fort Smith and Greenwood recorded 1.76 inches.

Wants to Hike Rates on Newspapers

By John L. Cutter

WASHINGTON, UP — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield asked newspaper editors today to support his drive for a $250,000,000-a-year hike on postal rates — including a $416,000,000 boost in rates on newspapers and magazines.

Summerfield addressed the American Society of Newspaper Editors which also heard:

1. A report by the ASNE's freedom of information committee that it may be losing the battle to establish a legal right for the American people to know all about their federal government.

2. A speech by Theodore C. Streibler director of the U. S. Information Agency, in which he said the editors can help spread the story of American democracy to combat world communism.

Cancer Drive Opens Today in Hempstead

A. G. V. Nunn Jr., Attorney at Law, has been appointed chairman of American Cancer Society's 1954 fund-raising crusade here. The drive for Hempstead County will officially open today April 16.

The Crusade will combine an appeal for funds with an educational campaign to inform the public of the latest facts about cancer.

The national goal for 1954 is $20,000,000 an increase of 2,000,000 over last year's quota which was over-subscribed by more than a million dollars. The Hempstead County quota for this year has been set at $1300, which is $300 more than was subscribed last year.

"In accepting this appointment," Mr. Nunn said, "I am deeply aware of the important responsibility it entails. Cancer now ranks second among America's killers and the annual death toll from the disease is on the increase."

Increased cancer incidence calls for a step up in the tempo of the nationwide crusade spearheaded by the American Cancer Society, to effect an increased number of cures possible with present treatment methods until such time as the research goal of cures or preventives of cancer has been reached.

"I feel sure that everyone in this community will want to share in this vital enterprise which has the ultimate objective of banishing the spectre of cancer from the daily lives of future generations of Americans."

"Many can take a direct part in the campaign by responding when volunteers are called to help in the fund raising drive. All can participate by contributing even more generously than they did last year so that we can succeed in meeting our increased local quota."

Demos Vow to Not Allow Glossing Over

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON, (AP) — Three Democratic members said today they will fight any effort by the Senate Banking Committee to focus on housing swindles which may have taken place in the Truman administration while glossing over more recent irregularities.

Chairman Capehart (R-Ind.) said there was no such intent on the part of the committee, which plans to start public hearings Monday into reports of a multi-million-dollar scandal.

The three Democrats—Senators Douglas of Illinois, Lehman of New York and Maybank of South Carolina—said that so far they had not had a lack of emphasis on exorbitant fees said to have been charged home owners for repairs financed with loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA). Officials have said these irregularities have continued virtually up until the present.

President Promises a 'Fair Share' of Troops to Remain in Europe

French Pour in Troops to Hold Stronghold

By LARRY ALLEN

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The Vietnamese showed tens of thousands of fresh troops into attack positions around Dien Bien Phu today. The third round of the savage battle for the French Union stronghold appeared to be days or even hours away.

Reliable sources said rebel Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap had rushed up at least 40,000 unbloodied regulars to bolster his badly battered force in the low hills encircling the fortified plain and along its fringes.

With these reinforcements and replacements for the thousands killed by murderous French fire in the past five weeks came 5,000 or more youthful rebels just of training camps.

It appeared certain here the Vietnamese in their next all-out assault would outnumber the defenders at least 6 to 1.

The Communist-led reinforcements went into forward trenches to relieve units of the four divisions which have spearheaded the hard fighting around the fortress since the first Vietnamese push March 13.

The veterans fell back a short distance, presumably to rest up for the next anticipated massive charge.

The stoutly defended French fortifications faced more critical moments today as the garrison forces tried to drive out Vietnamese troops entrenched on the northern sector of the main Dien Bien Phu air strip. The French, lunging at the infiltrated units with bayonets, grenades and machine guns, routed them yesterday from about half the trenches they had dug and blasted with high explosives on the pocket field.

But the rebels still clung to dugouts only 2,400 feet from the heart of the French bastion. These split the east-to-west network of defense communications on the north and posed the most serious threat to the fortified plain since the Vietnamese first struck.

The foothold on the airstrip was won this week after Vietnamese night raiders blasted craters with nitroglycerine. Rebel troops then

McClellan Sees 5 Reasons to Delay Hearing

ST. LOUIS, Mo., (U.P.) — Sen. McClellan, ranking Democrat on the McCarthy investigating committee, says he sees no reason to delay hearings on the McCarthy case because of the "Army charges."

Although they (the charges) "leaked out," he said here, "it is not a new thing."

McClellan, who has been a vocal supporter of Roy M. Cohn, said he has made no decision for his campaign against Gov. Sid McMath, who opposes the senator in his bid for term in this summer's Democratic primaries.

He has been occupied with legislative and official duties and has no opportunity to consider a campaign, nor have he had a campaign manager," he said.

McClellan speaks at Hot Springs tomorrow. He will address the Arkansas Wholesale Grocers Association convention here.

rushed in and furiously hacked out a system of connecting trenches. The Vietnamese also kept up their steady fighting around the outskirts of the Dien Bien Phu plain today, relentlessly pushing their web of trenches and foxholes closer to the French barbed wire barricades.

Giap was believed to have rounded up his reinforcements by beating the jungles throughout northern Indochina. Apparently he even drew on the regulars who have been fanning out in repeated scattered attacks against the French and their Vietnamese allies in the vital Red River delta, about 150 miles to the east.

The French gave no information on the numbers of defenders they still have at Dien Bien Phu after the five weeks of pounding. The high command here said only that none of the fortress' six main defense positions had suffered any food or ammunition shortages.

All supplies and reinforcements for the garrison of several thousand men must be parachuted in. The remote fortress is completely surrounded by the enemy, and constant artillery bombardment makes its two airstrips, unusable, even for removal of wounded.

In Washington yesterday the Defense Department acknowledged that the U. S. carriers Boxer and Essex have been operating in the South China Sea between the Philippines and Indochina, but there was no indication the carriers' planes would be thrown into the critical Indochina fight. Officials said the ships had moved into the area for training a month ago to take advantage of good weather.

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, in an appearance at a closed session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, reportedly denied reports the United States was considering sending combat air and naval forces to aid the French.

Changing of Foreign Policy Studied

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Whether Secretary of State Dulles has a long-range, clearly thought-out plan for stopping Communist expansion in Southeast Asia, or whether he's making it up as he goes, remains to be seen.

Three years ago, under the Truman administration, this country formed a Pacific military alliance with Australia and New Zealand, called Anzus.

This question has been raised: Would it be a good idea to expand Anzus by taking more nations into that particular alliance, and to form a kind of Pacific counterpart of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization?

NATO is a military alliance of 14 Western nations pledged to help each other in case of any of them is attacked by Russia. Britain, France, the Philippines and Nationalist China had expressed interest in joining Anzus.

Dulles met here last September with the foreign ministers of Australia and New Zealand. This was at a time when French and American officials, including Dulles, were still talking cheerfully about the outcome of the war in Indochina between the French and the Communist-led Vietnamese.

Would the three Anzus ministers consider expanding their alliance? For instance, by taking in Britain and France. They answered this with a statement which said "that to attempt to enlarge membership would not contribute directly and materially" to Pacific defense.

Between then and now the Vietnamese stepped up the war and began giving the French a battering, raising this question: Could the French hold out or win without direct participation by this country?

Dulles began to talk in dark tones. The French were sick of the war. The United States, Britain, France, Russia and the Chinese Communists were to meet April 26 to talk about settling the problem of Indochina and of Korea.

It seemed possible that if the Communists thought they could split the Allies at Geneva they might offer peace terms which would sound good to the weary French but be unacceptable to the United States.

Dulles had spoken repeatedly about the danger of letting the Communists get a hold in Southeast Asia. Suddenly he began talking about the need for "united action." This week he flew to Paris and London.

He could have had these reasons for what followed: (1) a pressing belief in the need for an expanded military alliance to protect Southeast Asia from the Communists; (2) a feeling he had strengthened the backbone of the French so the

GOPs in Arkansas Suggest Harmony

STUTTGART (U.P.) — The "Old Guard" and "Insurgent" factions of the State Republican Party may not come to blows at the state convention in June after all.

State GOP Vice Chairman Verne Tindall of Stuttgart, leader of the "Insurgent," said yesterday it is "highly probable there will be no fight for chairmanship between the two groups."

Tindall's statement came a day after Little Rock's Republican Mayor Pratt Rummel, a member of the "Old Guard" faction, announced that he might be a candidate for state chairman. Present Chairman A. L. Barber, also of the "Old Guard," has not said whether he will seek re-election.

Allies would have a united front at Geneva.

At any rate Dulles and French Foreign Minister Bidault yesterday issued a statement which said:

"In close association with other interested nations, we will examine the possibility of establishing within the framework of the United Nations Charter a collective defense to assure peace, security and freedom of this area (the Pacific and Southeast Asia)." The British agreed to a similar statement.

The collective defense they mentioned would be a 10-nation affair: the United States, Britain, France, Laos, Cambodia and Vietnam in Indochina, the Philippines, Australia, New Zealand and Thailand.

But the Big Three, didn't say they would actually set up an expanded Anzus, or Pacific NATO. They simply talked about examining the possibility.

Testimony Is Heard in Kidnap Case

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.) — The testimony of Joseph Lear in the Moskowitz kidnaping trial took a new twist yesterday when he unexpectedly lent support to his co-defendant's claim that the kidnaping was a hoax in which the victim willingly participated.

Lear, taking the stand in his own defense, testified that Leonard Moskowitz laughed and joked with one of his captors during the three days he was an asserted kidnap victim.

Lear, 42, is on trial with Harold Jackson, 33, for kidnaping Moskowitz, a 30-year-old real estate broker, Jan. 16 and holding him for $300,000 ransom. Jackson has claimed Moskowitz engineered the plot to extort engineered from his wall-to-wall father.

In previous testimony, Moskowitz told how he was bound with chains and terrorized during the 61 hours of his captivity.

But Lear's testimony yesterday lent some credence to Jackson's hoax story. While undergoing cross-examination by Jackson's attorney, Valentine C. Hammack, Lear told of leaving Jackson and Moskowitz together one night and returning to find Moskowitz unchained.

"And didn't you come and say to Jackson, 'What the hell kind of a phony deal is this?'" Hammack asked.

"In substance, yes sir."

"And didn't Mr. Jackson say, 'All you have to do is keep your mouth shut and obey orders. You're in this up to your neck?'"

"In general, yes sir."

"Isn't it a fact that on occasion while writing the ransom notes, Leonard Moskowitz laughed?"

"Yes."

"What did they say to each other?"

"I don't remember exactly. . . . There was an element of jest between Mr. Jackson and Mr. Moskowitz concerning things being said (in the note)."

Lear also said Moskowitz was allowed to do calisthenics "while Mr. Jackson was clowning around."

The testimony provoked Prosecutor Norman Elkington to ask: "For the past five minutes, Mr. Hammack has been asking you questions and you have been answering yes. . . . Did somebody talk to you about that yesterday afternoon?"

"No sir."

Elkington returned to the "element of jest" in the writing of the ransom notes. Lear said Jackson and Moskowitz "had little bits of conversation, were joking about something."

"One thing in particular," Lear said, "Mr. Jackson made some remark to Mr. Moskowitz that this would be a million dollars worth of advertising and Lennie said, 'yes, this ought to bring them in, or something to that effect.'"

Elkington then suggested that Superior Judge Twin Michelson call the noon recess at this point.

Spectators laughed aloud. Judge Michelson turned to the defense attorneys, Hammack, for Jackson, and Robert K. Winters, and Frances Carr for Lear, and admonished them for smiling together in front of the jury.

Dulles Will Give Ike Dope in Person

AUGUSTA, Ga., (U.P.) — President Eisenhower will get a personal report from Secretary of State Dulles here Monday on United States efforts to forge a Pacific defense alliance to stem the spread of communism.

The President's vacation headquarters announced late yesterday that Dulles just back from London and Paris conferences on Indochina and Southeast Asia, will fly from Washington to meet Eisenhower.

The announcement came a few hours after Dulles had returned to the United States after winning British and French agreement to work toward a Pacific pact.

James C. Hagerly, White House press secretary, said that Dulles—in addition to reporting on the London-Paris negotiations—will "obtain the President's guidance on the upcoming NATO conference and the Geneva conference."

He will spend two or three hours with Eisenhower at the Little White House at the Augusta National Golf Club, then return to Washington. He will fly Tuesday night to Paris for a meeting of North Atlantic Treaty nations, then Hammack and Lear jumped to their feet and cited the judge for prejudicial misconduct. "Make all the citations you like, but they will not deter this court from making observations on your conduct," the judge said.

Ex-Treasurer Is Found Sane

BENTON (U.P.) — Former Saline County Treasurer Bruce Moore, indicted for misuse of public funds, has been found "capable of logical reasoning" by State Hospital officials. Circuit Clerk Esmer Shell said last night.

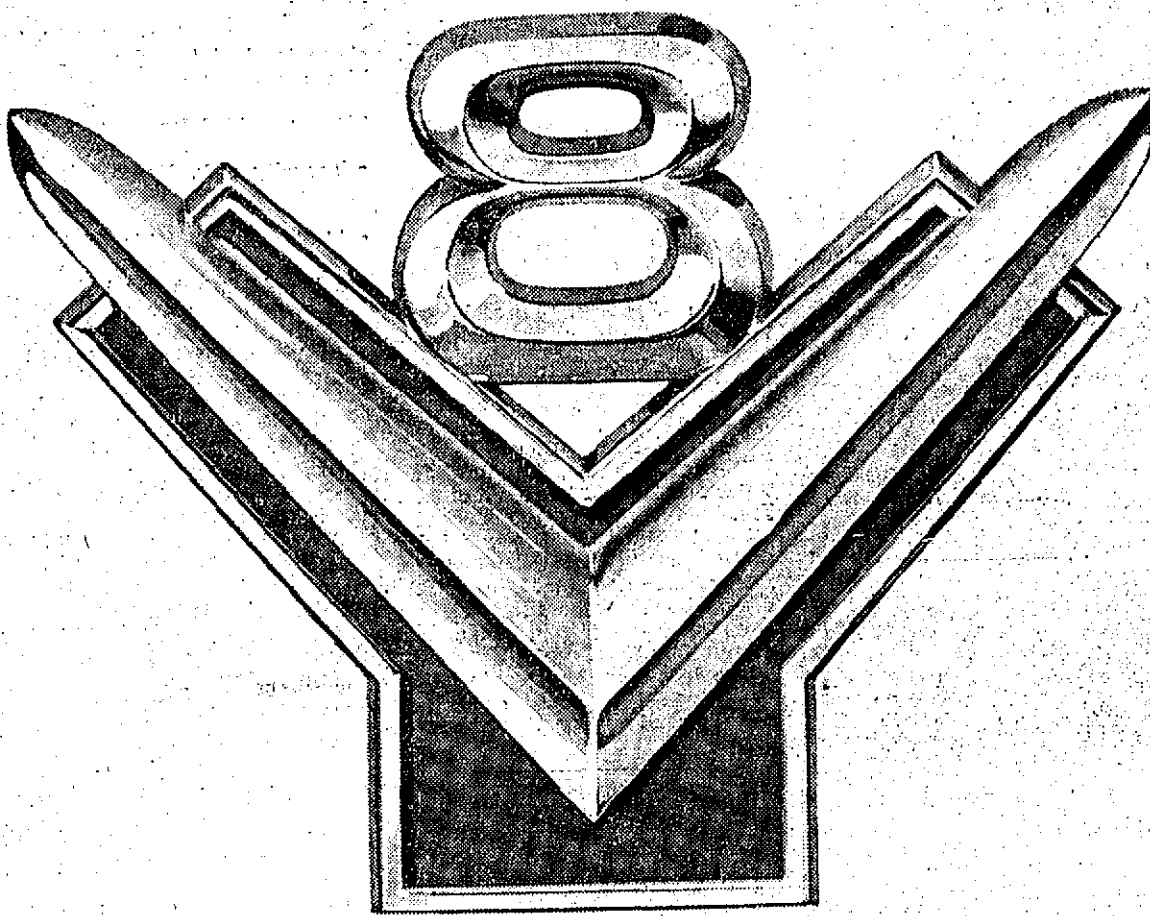

Moore, former Circuit Judge Roy Rep. J. A. Gibson were indicted by the Saline County Grand Jury on Feb. 25 in connection with a $17,115.65 shortage in county funds.

From the world's largest maker, a completely new kind of V-8

The V-8 engine has come a long way since Ford introduced its first V-8 over 22 years ago. During these years, preference for the V-8 engine has grown steadily . . . and today there are twice as many V-8's being built as there were right after World War II. This demonstration of car buyers' preference is proof that the V-8 engine is best suited to modern motoring needs.

For 1954, Ford has stepped even farther out front with the revolutionary new Ford Y-Block V-8 . . . the most modern "eight" in any car at any price! This new deep-block, low-friction engine brings you even smoother, quieter power . . . even longer engine life and less gas waste. And this great, overhead-valve V-8 costs less than any other "eight" . . . less than practically any other "six," too.

But the new Y-block V-8 engine is only one of the many "Worth More" features you get in a V-8 Ford. You also get the smoother riding and easier handling of Ford's new Ball-Joint Front Suspension. You get your pick of 14 brilliant new body styles—with trend-setting interiors. And you can have power steering, power brakes, power windows, power front seat, and Fordomatic Drive as options.*

earnings. But at 63 "Ol Case" can look back on many long years when he rode the escalator the wrong way, and he couldn't see the first division without a periscope.

Neither late success nor his years of defeat have affected the very cheer of his outlook. He is neither a braggart in triumph nor a grumbler when things go sour. He has looked at light from all angles, enjoys it hugely and remains what he has always been — a rugged competitor.

The talk of breaking up his Yankees does rile him, however, and he regards it as utter nonsense. "We play to win," he said the other night at a baseball dinner, thrusting out a jaw from a seamed face that looked as if it has been carved out of a walnut stump with a claw hammer. "And we're going to win that sixth one this year."

The talk was pure "stankless" — a delightful riffing of his mind though 30 disconnected subjects it was like listening to a shrewd and ageless child rambling to himself all alone. Casey loves to talk, and loves to double talk even more. He has a wonderful gift as a talker — the air of just being ready to disclose a tremendous secret, a secret the never quite gets around to telling.

At the end of his 45-minute talk at the baseball dinner, he had the guests helpless with laughter. But one, trying to sum up the gist of Stengel's speech, said, "All I can figure out he really did was endorse the New York subway system and say that a player could hit father if he ate steaks rather than hamburger sandwiches."

Stengel is a dinosaur, one of the last of the old time players, and is inclined to brood at times because every boy in America no longer dreams of a big league career.

"When a pitcher now can get $25,000 or better, why wouldn't any kid want to go into baseball?" he asked the other night. "What's wrong with that kind of money?" Ty Cobb once praised Stengel as the greatest of all managers. Some New York Giant fans prefer to regard him as a lucky comic character actor compared to the late John J. McGraw. But whatever his final rating, he seems sure of a place eventually in the sports Hall of Fame.

It will be a lonesome day in baseball when the "Ol' Professor" hangs up his uniform forever. He is invited to attend.

Bride-Elect Feted
Mrs. Mavis Baber, bride-elect of Gilbert Osborn, was the honoree at a miscellaneous bridal shower given on Thursday night, April 15, at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Ross Bright. Hostesses were Mrs. Joe Reese, Mrs. Norman Martin and Mrs. Bright.

The house was decorated throughout with iris, bridal wreath and white snowballs in Easter colors. Games were played with prizes being won by Mrs. Joel Osborn and Mrs. A. J. Rhodes. After the honoree had opened her many gifts, the hostesses served individual colored cakes, embossed with "Mavis and Gilbert" and punch to the guests.

Senior Ladies Auxiliary Meets
The Senior Ladies Auxiliary of the Unity Baptist Church met on Monday afternoon at two o'clock at the church with 11 members and one child present.

The meeting was opened with several songs directed by Mrs. John Bill Jordan. Mrs. Jesse Sinclair then led the group in prayer. The twenty-third Psalm was used as the devotional and was presented by Mrs. Lizzie Sinyard.

Elder Howard White taught the very interesting lesson, and the group was dismissed with prayer led by Mrs. Howard White.

Sunday School Lesson

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The Christmas story is only a part of the full story that had its climax in the Resurrection, and no part, or even incident, in the life and ministry of Jesus can be properly considered except in the light of the great triumph and fulfillment.

This is particularly true of the dark and tragic scenes in the life of Jesus. Not all the beauty of His words and acts, the gentleness of blessing children, the environment of fields and green pastures could suppress the tragedy at Calvary if all had ended at the Cross.

That hour of darkness and suffering would have overshadowed all that had gone before.

Not all the hope and happiness of former scenes and experiences could dispel the overwhelming gloom of the disciples as they saw their Master led away to be crucified.

Said one of them (Luke 24), "We trusted that it had been He, who should have redeemed Israel." For them a glorious dream had vanished.

Then came new faith, hope, power, vision — and enthusiasm — as the dream became a reality, and humble disciples were transformed into world leaders — going forth to preach the gospel to every creature (Mark 16:15), and making disciples of all nations (Matthew 28:19,20).

It is in the light of what happened to those disciples that we must see the reality and power of the Resurrection.

There is a great need that Christians everywhere should find renewed faith and vision in the experience of those early disciples. We are living in a world upon which gloom, such as that which fell upon Calvary, in many ways still surrounds us.

The dreams and hopes of peace, the ongoing conquest of the world by the Master, have been shocked by wars and violence, by hatreds and by the spirit and actions of anti-Christ, as real as the hatreds and violence that sent Jesus to the Cross.

We, also, might in disillusionment and discouragement, as did the disciples. But we must go on to their experience of new-born faith, and hope, and above all of ongoing life and works in devotion to the Christ and the fulfillment of the commission He has given to all who would follow Him.

It is the Living Christ, of the Resurrection who must be our inspiration and our guide. It is the Living Christ of the Resurrection who must be the Light of the World in a world of so much darkness.

Widmark to Try Hand at Free-Lance

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Today Richard Widmark checks out of his contract at 20th Century-Fox to try his wings as a free-lance actor.

He leaves on somewhat of a sour note, but he isn't bitter about it. His last picture at the studio is "Broken Lance," and he expects to get fourth billing in it, under Spencer Tracy, Jean Peters and Robert Wagner.

"It's a good script, but I don't have anything to do in it," he commented blandly. "I suppose I could raise a big fuss about the role and the billing, but what good would it do me? It doesn't mean that much."

"It just seems kind of silly to me for a studio to spend seven years in building up a name, and then toss it away in the last picture."

He should worry. Since the world got around that he wasn't signing again at the studio, he has been up to his elbows in scripts. The first one he has chosen is "A Prize of Gold" for an independent company. He'll transport his family to England, and the film will be made there and in Germany. He has no immediate plans after that.

"But I intend to concentrate on movies for the next two years," he said. "I am going to try for good scripts, and if I can get a couple of really good pictures behind me I'll perhaps go back to the studio. The important thing is to consolidate my position in pictures. I like making movies, and I'd like to continue in this medium."

um. "I haven't cared much for the films I have made in the past four years. A lot of them have been commercial but they haven't been really prestige pictures. I don't want just prestige pictures either. I want a combination of commercial and prestige."

I asked which was the last picture he liked.

"It was a little comedy called 'My Pal Gus,'" he remarked. "It didn't do much business, partly because the studio just let it sneak out. It didn't even get a big playing date in New York. The studio also didn't get behind 'Panic in the Streets,' another picture I liked."

But he admitted that part of the difficulty was that he played nice guys in these two films. "The studio expects to see me as a tough-tough guy," he said. "They're disappointed in me. I don't know what to make of it. I'm aware of that, and in the next two years I don't want to shock them by playing a tough guy. Whatever I do, I'll have the element of toughness in my picture."

All in the Game, Says Slaughter

NEW YORK. — Enos Slaughter sobs no more. The pin-striped Yankee uniform with Vic Raschi's old No. 17 on the back is a perfect fit for the baldish "country boy" from Carolina.

"It's all in the game," he said today with a wry grin. "You never know in this business."

Last time I saw the Yankee Stadium was 1942. I left with the champions, now I'm back with the champions."

Slaughter referred, of course, to the 42 World Series in which the upstart St. Louis Cardinals with Terry Moore, Salughter and Stan Musial in the outfield, upset the mighty Yankees.

Since the eighth inning of Sunday's exhibition game at St. Louis, Slaughter has been riding

Mrs. Charles F. Reynerson, City Clerk.

Slaughter stopped suddenly as though he didn't want to get involved in any controversy. "But it's all over now. As soon as I got out of town St. Louis I felt different about it. I'm in good shape. Just weighed myself and I said 185 pounds. This might be a big break for me."

He was talking about the time he was traded to the Yankees, he had to pull up roots that had coiled deep into St. Louis soil for about 18 years.

"About the eighth inning of Sunday's game, they told me to drug me up to see Mr. Meyer (Dick Meyer, Card general manager. He gave it to me straight. 'This is the end,' he said. 'We've traded you to the Yankees.'"

"I wouldn't care so much if I thought I was through but I knew I wasn't finished. Hell, the only way they could get my job was to get rid of me."

"Mr. Meyer told me it wasn't that they thought I was through. It was just that they were starting a youth movement. I don't know what kind of youth movement it is. That boy, Joe Frazier, is 32. I think."

Card Hurling Falling Under Expectations

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals must be wondering today whether all that peering preseason pitching by his Big Three was only an early spring night's dream.

It was only a few weeks ago that Harvey Haddix, Vic Raschi and Garry Staley were racking up goose eggs all over the lot.

But in successive starts since the regular season began, Haddix and Raschi were pounded off the hill before they could even draw a deep breath. Haddix got his lumps opening day, pounded for five hits and four runs in less than three innings by the Chicago Cubs.

Raschi made his National League debut in Milwaukee yesterday and the former Yankee appeared ever worse. He was pulled in the second inning after he had been slugged for four hits and as many runs.

The Cards fought back to tie the game with a run in the eighth and three more in the ninth but Billy Bruton walked in the 11th and ended all the way home with the winning run on Danny O'Connell's single to right and Rip Repulski's double. The 7-6 defeat was charged to reliever Haddix, his second in two games. A record crowd of 35,963 saw southpaw Warren Spahn go all the way for Milwaukee.

Staley, the third member of the big trio, is due to make his 1953 bow in Chicago tomorrow.

The only other wireless club in the majors are the Chicago White Sox who dropped their third in a row as Baltimore celebrated its first American League home opener since 1902 with a 3-1 victory before 46,354 wildly cheering fans.

Bob Turley, the sophomore speedballer, permitted seven hits and struck out nine for the Orioles. Home runs by Clint Courtney and Vern Stephens sent Virgil Trucks down to defeat.

Cincinnati's hard-hitting Redlegs remained the majors' only unbeaten team, pounding out an 11-5 decision over the Cubs for their second straight. Jimmy Green-grass, who tied a record with four doubles on opening day, added a fifth two-bagger and walloped a bases-loaded home run to highlight a six-run seventh for Cincinnati.

A slim gathering of 12,498 hardy souls braved the wintry blasts at Ebbets Field and were rewarded by a 7-4 Brooklyn victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Three Dodger home runs, all off loser Max Surkont, accounted for six runs. Roy Campanella hit his third of the season with two on, Junior Gilliam hit his second and Jackie Robinson his first with a runner on base. Russ Meyer was the winner but he needed help from Jim Hughes in the eighth.

Veteran Murry Dickson got the better of a pitching duel with young Johnny Antonelli as the Philadelphia Phils blanked the New York Giants 2-0 in a game cut to 6 1/2 innings because of rain. Antonelli yielded only three hits but two of them were damaging drag bunts. One was made by Ted Kazanski, who took second on Antonelli's wild throw, third on a passed ball and scored on a fly in the fifth. The second was made by slugger Del Ennis, who squeezed Willie Jones home with two out in the sixth.

Four teams were tied for first place in the American League with 2-1 records. Detroit handed Cleveland the first defeat of the season 3-2, scoring the winning run in the ninth on two walks, an infield single by Bill Tuttle and an infield out by Matt Batts. Reliever Ralph Branca was the winner and a merry-go-round. Shocked by his trade to the Yanks, he had to pull up roots that had coiled deep into St. Louis soil for about 18 years.

"About the eighth inning of Sunday's game, they told me to drug me up to see Mr. Meyer (Dick Meyer, Card general manager. He gave it to me straight. 'This is the end,' he said. 'We've traded you to the Yankees.'"

"I wouldn't care so much if I thought I was through but I knew I wasn't finished. Hell, the only way they could get my job was to get rid of me."

He Arose

He is not here. The Cross and the Tomb have both been snatched from their association with death. They have been transformed by love and self-giving. DARK FRIDAY becomes GOOD FRIDAY with the revealing of Heavenly love. Christmas is sanctified in Easter. He lives and we, too, shall live, in the measure in which we learn to kiss the Cross, our cross as well as His. His journey to Golgotha transfigured the cross forever, TURNING A SYMBOL OF SUFFERING INTO A SYMBOL OF TRIUMPHANT LIFE. It is Easter.
